You'd think that if the low serotonin hypothesis was true, the anti-depressant drugs would work rapidly too.

Earlier than thermometer history we have the MWP, which Mann (and Bickmore) are at pains to make disappear.